

I have been extremely pleased with Indiana's telephone privacy law. It has reduced unwanted phone calls to almost zero. I would not want a federal law to try and cover all states. Each state should know it's people better and could serve them better than the federal government in this case. Thank you.